EICC Auditor Management

1. Auditors*

It is required that Auditors who participate in VAP/CMA/AMA/SVAP** on forced labor audits be EICC-approved Auditors. See “Audit Team Members.” Audit Firms are responsible for assigning their EICC-approved Auditors for upcoming audits. EICC members are responsible to ensure that only EICC-approved Auditors are appointed for CMA and AMA audits.

It is the responsibility of the Auditor to not only conduct the audit, but also take steps in Auditor preparation, on-site audit and report writing.

*The term “Auditor” throughout this document generally refers to EICC VAP, CMA, AMA and SVAP Auditors. Internal Auditors of EICC member companies shall also comply with the qualification criteria listed in this guidebook if they wish to seek registration as EICC-approved Auditors with EICC.

** VAP = Validated Audit Program; CMA = Customer Managed Audit; AMA= Auditee Managed Audit, SVAP = Supplemental VAP on forced Labor.

Auditor Responsibilities

The audit must be conducted in accordance with the expectations outlined in the EICC VAP Operations Manual.

Auditor responsibilities include:

- Executing the audit:
  - ❖ Audit preparation
  - ❖ Conducting the audit
  - ❖ Finalizing the report
  - ❖ Providing the proper documentation
- Conducting the audit in accordance with the contents of the EICC VAP Operations Manual and following EICC Audit Protocols
- Understanding applicable national, regional and local regulatory requirements
- Applying EICC Standards and Code interpretations, as well as applicable national, regional and local regulatory requirements
- Participating in the opening, closing and other necessary meetings
- Preparing findings, including complete descriptions of supporting evidence, for all assigned audit criteria questions, as required by the EICC Audit Protocol
- Acting in an honest and ethical manner
- Escalating all “Priority” Non-Conformances as required by the EICC
- Gathering field notes and copies of evidence (documents, photos) upon completion of the Audit report, and providing to the Audit Program Manager (APM) as needed

Audit Team Members

Auditors participating in EICC audits must be “EICC Approved.” Individuals must have the competencies, experience and/or education and training required to be approved for each discipline – Labor & Ethics, forced labor and Environment, Health and Safety (EHS).

Auditors can be approved for one of the following categories:

- EICC Lead Auditor
- EICC Auditor
- EICC Provisional Auditor

The EICC audit team must always consist of at least one “Lead Auditor” for both EHS and Labor & Ethics elements. Exception: only one Lead Auditor is required for a closure audit where review is on either EHS or Labor & Ethics issues.

At least 51 percent of the audit team must be a “Lead Auditor” or “EICC Auditor.” Provisional Auditors may make up less than 50 percent of the audit team (therefore, if there are two Auditors, neither may be Provisional; if there are three Auditors, one may be Provisional; if there are four Auditors, one may be Provisional; if there are five auditors, two may be Provisional).

Non-approved Auditors may attend and observe the audit. Non-approved Auditors attending audits are required to follow the same EICC Auditor standards regarding professionalism and ethical behavior, and must follow the audit process.

2. Audit Firm Information

EICC audits are open to all EICC-approved audit companies for EICC VAP audits that meet and agree to follow the EICC Code. VAP audits are assigned based on availability of the Auditors, quality of previous audits, and cost. In addition, a preference is given to local Auditors (as opposed to Auditors who must “fly in” to do audits).

Audit Firms that participate in the EICC program must:

- Agree to the contract provided in the audit scheduling process
- Have the required insurance
- Commit to requiring and enforcing ethical behavior with their Auditors
- Pledge to confidentiality
- Be accredited by another accreditation body (ISO accreditation from various accreditation councils) by Jan. 1, 2019
- Perform at least 20 VAP audits in each calendar year
- Maintain at least 20 EICC-approved auditors within the audit firm
- For a new audit firm, have a minimum of 10 qualified EICC Lead Auditors (minimum of 5 each for Labor Ethics and EHS), increasing to 15 qualified auditors at the start of the third year and 25 qualified auditors at the start of the fifth year

In certain cases, audit firms may be suspended or terminated due to issues with their individual auditors. For CMA and AMA audits, EICC members have the responsibility to ensure that the Auditors appointed are EICC-approved Auditors.

3. Auditor Competencies

All Auditors must exhibit the proper competencies to conduct EICC audits. While all Auditors must display certain competencies, Lead Auditors must hold additional competencies to ensure they can properly lead audits. Additionally, there are differences between competencies needed for EHS, Labor & Ethics and Forced Labor Auditors.

As mentioned earlier, Auditors can be approved for all disciplines, namely Labor & Ethics, Forced Labor and EHS. In order to qualify, an Auditor must meet the requirements for each designation, including participating in the required number of EHS, Labor & Ethics and Forced labor audits. All new applicants and reclassifying Auditors may use relevant types of audits to support their applications, i.e., ISO 14001 and OHSAS 18001, EICC VAP/CMA /AMA; SA8000. For renewal of qualifications, only EICC VAP, CMA and AMA audits are acceptable.

The EICC may, at any time, send an EICC employee or appointed agent to shadow an auditor. The information obtained in this shadow audit will be used for training purposes and to continuously improve the quality and credibility of the EICC Audit program.

By Jan. 1, 2020, all auditors must have an additional third-party certification (ISO 9001, ISO 14001, OHSAS 18001, SA 8000, IRCA certification, etc.) in order to perform EICC audits.

General Competencies for all Auditors

- Knowledge of general auditing principles that qualify the Auditor to conduct audits in an accurate and systematic manner
- Ability to understand reference documents that enable the Auditor to apply audit criteria
- Knowledge and/or experience that empowers the Auditor to comprehend an organization's operational and industry context
- Knowledge of applicable laws, regulations and other requirements relevant to the auditee's situation
- Ability to communicate clearly, orally and in writing, with personnel at all levels of an organization, including workers, the APM and EICC staff
- Ability to determine the conformance of a system designed to meet the EICC requirements
- Ability to generate accurate, appropriate and responsible Audit findings and conclusions
- Experience upholding the principles of proper ethical conduct, fair presentation and due professional care

Competencies Required for All Labor, Ethics and Forced Labor Auditors

- Knowledge of internationally accepted human rights norms, laws and regulations relating to labor and ethics issues
- Knowledge of relevant industry codes of practice, legal requirements, guidelines and standards relating to labor and ethics

- At least two years of work experience as an Auditor or work similar to an Auditor, or managing Auditors or auditing processes
- At least one of those years must be spent conducting EHS audits
- Either (i) Participation in at least 15 audits focused on EHS in the previous 24 months or (ii) Observe three EICC VAP/CMA/AMA audits and be observed in three EICC VAP/CMA/AMA audits in the previous 24 months.

6. Auditor Training Requirements

To receive any level of certification (EICC Lead Auditor, EICC Auditor, or EICC Provisional Auditor), Auditors should attend at least one of the EICC pre-approved EICC Code-related training courses and demonstrate Auditor proficiency.

Auditors must take the appropriate training course for the certification they wish to hold; if an individual wishes to have approval in both Labor & Ethics and EHS they must attend the training for each discipline.

Initial Training – EICC Code-Related Training Courses

Prior to approval for any category, Auditors should attend and pass at least one of the following EICC Code training courses:

- “The EICC Code of Conduct (CoC) Training” facilitated by the EICC, specific to Labor & Ethics and/or EHS, depending on the discipline for which they wish to be approved
- Other public courses that are currently available and pre-approved by EICC, e.g., “The EICC Labor & Ethics Lead Auditor training” facilitated by Verité
- Audit Firm in-house course that is pre-approved by the EICC
- EICC approved Forced Labor Audit course (for Forced Labor auditors)

These courses are required for all individuals receiving their initial approval as well as any individuals who are assigned to take this training as a result of their test scores not meeting minimal expectations. All applicant or reclassifying Auditors must take the “EICC Qualification Test” to ensure sufficient knowledge of the EICC Code of Conduct. Applicant Auditors who do not meet the minimum requirement of 24 Continuous Professional Development (CPD) hours and three EICC audits for each discipline may also take the corresponding “EICC Qualification Test” to maintain the current qualification category.

Once the Auditor completes any of the EICC pre-approved EICC Code-related training courses, Forced Labor Audit course and passes the corresponding “EICC Qualification Test” they are approved in their respective designation for two years.

There are three EICC Qualification Test, namely EICC Labor & Ethics Qualification Test, EICC Environmental, health and Safety Qualification Test and EICC Forced Labor Qualification Test.

To pass the training, the Auditor must demonstrate the following:

- Attentiveness during the training
- The ability to comprehend the training and apply learnings during audit situations
- Understanding of the principles taught

If an individual does not pass the course, they may re-take the course at any time and attempt to meet expectations.

The EICC training is focused on the following topics:

- EICC Audit process – how the process works, definitions, etc.
- EICC Code of Conduct
- Overview of general auditing expectations and procedures
- Expectations for EICC Auditors related to ethics, bribery, gift-taking, honesty, transparency, etc.
- How to conduct an EICC audit – scope, interviews, document reviews, factory audit, triangulation of answers, etc.
- Audit Tool and EICC audit scoring methodology
- Workhour Spreadsheet

“The EICC Code of Conduct (CoC) Training” facilitated by the EICC is recommended. The attendee should have attended a basic auditing courses like an Internal Auditing Course or a Lead Auditor Course that is related to ISO standards or other relevant standards to demonstrate that the attendee has relevant auditing skills.

“The EICC Code of Conduct (CoC) Training” does not cover the following topics:

- How to conduct audits and interviews
- How to review documentation
- Other basic auditing principles
- Legal and customer requirements

“The EICC Code of Conduct (CoC) Training” is a three-and-a-half-day course. Special arrangements can be made to cater to the needs of a single discipline training, e.g., EHS or Labor and Ethics. Common modules like general EICC Information and Management Systems will be taught in both courses. Exemptions may be granted to attendees who have attended these kinds of sessions previously. For cost and training dates, log on to the EICC website for more details.

The agenda for the EICC course is as follows

- Day 1 – General EICC Information
  - ❖ Audit Process
  - ❖ EICC VAP Operations Manual
  - ❖ EICC Audit Expectations
  - ❖ EICC Audit Tools (Audit Checklist, opening meeting and closing meetings)
  - ❖ EICC Report Expectations, Tips, and Guidance
  - ❖ Ethics
  - ❖ General Audit Guidance

- Day 2 – Management System and EHS
  - ❖ Management System and EHS Questions
  - ❖ Management System and EHS Code Interpretations
  - ❖ Management System and EHS Tips and Guidance

- Day 3 – Labor & Ethics
  - ❖ Workhour Spreadsheet
  - ❖ Sampling and Worker Interviews
  - ❖ Labor & Ethics Questions
  - ❖ Labor & Ethics Code Interpretations
  - ❖ Labor & Ethics Tips and Guidance

- Day 4 (half day) – Q&A (two hours) and Test (two hours)

NOTE: as described elsewhere, an individual is approved for each discipline individually, and their 24-month approval is managed individually as well. Therefore, their EHS approval is terminated 24 months after participants successfully attend an EHS training, and their Labor and Ethics approval is terminated 24 months after successful attendance at a Labor & Ethics training.

The EICC Forced Labor Audit course is focused on the following topics:

- EICC Audit process – how the process works, definitions, etc.
- EICC Code of Conduct with specific focus on Forced Labor
- Overview of general auditing expectations and procedures
- Expectations for EICC Auditors related to ethics, bribery, gift-taking, honesty, transparency, etc.
- How to conduct an EICC forced labor audit – scope, interviews, document reviews, triangulation of answers, etc.
- Audit Tool and EICC audit scoring methodology
- Special focus on workers interviews

Auditors, worker interviewers, translators or interpreters should attend the EICC Forced Labor Audit course.

Renewal and Continual Professional Development (CPD)

On a 24-month basis, all Auditors must have completed three EICC audits (initial or renewal) (refer to Section 8 for more details). In addition, all Auditors shall collect at least 24 hours of CPD.

The CPD hours must be logged in the “EICC Qualification/CPD Log” and submitted to the EICC / Appointed Agent for review and approval.

The following activities could be counted as CPD hours:

- Training / webinar on the revision and/or up-date of EICC Code of Conduct, audit tools (mandatory)
- Attendance at the EICC Auditor summit (technical content only)
- EICC-related training courses organized by EICC Learning Academy

- Attendance at the EICC annual conference
- Local legal and other regulatory requirement training courses, workshops and conferences
- Other EHS, Labor and Ethics, Forced Labor-related training courses, workshops and conferences
- Internal Auditor calibration workshop (EICC-related only)

The EICC/ EICC-Appointed Agent has the sole discretion to decide on the acceptance of the CPD hours submitted.

Auditors are approved for 24 months. Two months before expiration, the Auditor shall submit the 24 hours CPD log and three EICC audits with supporting documentation. Once the “EICC Qualification/CPD Log” is accepted, the Auditor is approved to conduct EICC audits in their assigned category for 24 additional months.

If the approved/accepted CPD hours is less than 24 hours within the 24 months, or less than three EICC audits within the 24 months, approval to participate in EICC audits ends. However, Auditors have a 2-month window to complete the 24 CPD hours. If Auditors do not fulfill the 24 CPD hours and/or the three EICC audits after the 2-month grace period, their approval is terminated.

To become re-approved, they must attend the “The EICC Code of Conduct (CoC) Training” again or attempt to take the corresponding “EICC Qualification Test” directly (provided the Auditor has at least conducted one EICC VAP Initial/Renewal audit). Should the Auditor not pass the test, the Auditor will have to take the EICC Code Training. For cost and training dates, visit the EICC website.

There are categories of an “EICC Qualification Test”:

- a. Provisional Auditor – A test with multiple choice and short answer questions (two hours)
- b. Auditor – A test with short answer questions (two hours)
- c. Lead Auditor – A test with short answer questions (two hours) and a telephone interview (45 minutes) during the processing phase of application

8. Currently Approved Auditors

For Auditors who are qualified beyond Jan. 1, 2017, their qualification will expire on the date stated in their EICC Qualification Certificate.

If an Auditor is "currently approved" to conduct EICC audits on Jan. 1, 2016, their approval continues until Jan. 1, 2017.

On that date, their approval is terminated unless the following is completed:

- Submit "Auditor Qualification/CPD Log" to demonstrate experience in participating in at least three EICC audits (initial or renewal; VAP/CMA/AMA/SVAP on Forced Labor) in the previous 24 months (NOTE: in certain circumstances in countries/locations in which few EICC audits are conducted, the EICC may reduce or remove this requirement or supplement by EICC closure audit or priority closure audit). Every closure/priority closure audit is counted as 0.5 of an initial/renewal audit.
- Collected 24 CPD hours (refer to Renewal and Continual Professional Development section).

Failure to complete those actions prior to Jan. 1, 2017 will result in removal from the EICC-Approved Auditor List. If the Auditor wishes to become approved after that time, the Auditor must go through the "new" Auditor process. Alternatively, auditors may be allowed to take the corresponding "EICC Qualification Test" if the Auditor has conducted at least one EICC VAP initial/renewal audit within the last 24 months. Special approval from the Appointed Agent/EICC staff may be granted on a case-by-case basis. Refer to Attachment 2 for further details on "The Auditor Qualification and EICC Qualification Testing Process."

9. Acceptability of Standards, Codes and Other Audit Criteria

No other certifications, training or qualifications can exempt an Auditor from these requirements except for proof of auditing skills.

10. Associated Costs

All associated costs, including costs for training and processing of application, are borne by the audit firms or auditors or EICC Member Company for internal auditors. Refer to the EICC website for training details on EICC Code Training and the EICC Qualification Test.

Processing fees are as follows and are nonrefundable:

- For a new application: USD $50 per application for each discipline for Provisional Auditor and Auditor.
- For reclassifying or renewal: USD $50 per application for each discipline for Provisional Auditor and Auditor.

- For new, renewal and reclassifying of Lead Auditor: USD $100 per application for each discipline.

The “EICC Qualification Test” is USD $100 per attempt and is nonrefundable. The “EICC Qualification Test” is administered by the EICC or its Appointed Agent.

The fee for the review of audit firm’s internal EICC CoC course is USD $2000 per course and it is non-refundable.

11. The Approval Period

Unless otherwise terminated, approval is valid for 24 months from the date the Auditor successfully completed the EICC pre-approved EICC Code-related training course and passed the corresponding “EICC Qualification Test.”

Refer to Section 6, Renewal and Continuous Professional Development requirements for renewal of qualification status.

If an Auditor moves from one approved Audit Firm/EICC Member Company to another, their approval continues to be valid through the original approval period.

12. Re-Application by Terminated or Expired Auditors

Auditors who have had their approval terminated or expire may be able to reapply for approval, depending on the circumstances attributed to the termination.

Any re-approval includes going through the approval process and meeting the qualifications, including attendance at the EICC Code Training Course and passing the EICC Qualification Test.

- Auditors who have had approvals terminated due to confirmed ethical breaches will not be re-approved.
- Auditors who have had approvals terminated due to suspected, but not confirmed, Ethical Breach(s) may re-apply after 12 months. Approval, at that time, is at the sole discretion of the EICC/ Appointed Agent.
- Auditors who have had approvals terminated due to three or more egregious errors may re-apply after 12 months. Approval, at that time, is at the sole discretion of the EICC / Appointed Agent.
- Auditors who have had approvals terminated due to three or more complaints from the auditee may re-apply after 12 months. Approval, at that time, is at the sole discretion of the EICC / Appointed Agent.
- Auditors who have had approvals expire due to not completing the required actions (EICC audit experience and 24 CPD hours) in the required time but left in good standing with the EICC may reapply at any time.

13. How to Reclassify

The Auditor can apply for reclassification of approval status (move from "Provisional" to "Auditor," or "Auditor" to "Lead Auditor") at any time. If/when an Auditor or auditing company or EICC Member Company wants to reclassify the Auditor, they must complete the required application and pay the associated processing fee. If the auditor is in good standing, and if they meet the requirements of the newly requested classification, they will be approved in their new classification.

Their approval, however, is good for only two years from their last pre-approved EICC Code-related training course or EICC Qualification Test. [NOTE: the approval is NOT valid from the time of reclassification, but is based on the training date/EICC Qualification Test date.]

14. Confidentiality

The Appointed Agent and the EICC consider all information, correspondence, and documentation submitted by the Auditor in support of the Auditor's certification activities strictly private and confidential.

The Appointed Agent and the EICC reserve the right to publish the names of the approved auditing firms and the approved Auditors (Lead Auditor, Auditor and Provisional). These names may be published so that member companies know which Auditors have been approved to conduct EICC audits.

The Appointed Agent and the EICC reserve the right to communicate to EICC Member Companies regarding Auditors and/or auditing companies who have had their approval terminated. In addition, the Appointed Agent and the EICC reserve the right to provide information to EICC Member Companies, the EICC and the EICC Board of Directors, regarding the performance of Auditors and audit firms.

15. Approval Termination

Both the Auditor and the Audit Firm may have their approval to conduct EICC audits terminated.

---

Auditor Termination

The auditor may no longer be approved to conduct EICC audits for the following reasons:

Confirmed Ethical Breach – acceptance of bribery, accepting gifts, unethical or dishonest audit scores, etc.:

- Approved Auditor status removal is effective immediately upon confirmation of ethics violation
- This decision is at the sole discretion of the Appointed Agent or the EICC
- Ethical breaches apply not only to ethical issues within the EICC program, but any ethical issues with any audit or auditee, or within any auditing scheme

Suspected, But Not Confirmed, Ethical Breach – Auditors that have a suspected, but not confirmed, ethical breach (acceptance of bribery, accepting gifts, unethical or dishonest audit scores, etc.) will be:

- Suspended from conducting audits during the investigation, unless otherwise permitted to do

audits by the Appointed Agent or the EICC

- Suspended from conducting EICC audits for up to 12 months (to protect the EICC and EICC audit process) – Auditor must be re-approved as a new Auditor prior to conducting EICC audits
- Placed on probation for up to 24 months (probation means any other ethical breach, or suspected ethical breach, during this time may result in removal from the approved auditor list)
- NOTES:
  - ❖ The decision to consider any Auditor in "Suspected, But Not Confirmed, Ethical Breach" and the application of any or all of the above is at the sole discretion of the Appointed Agent and/or the EICC
  - ❖ Ethical breaches apply not only to the EICC program, but any ethical issues with any audit or auditee, or within any auditing scheme

Egregious Errors – large errors in the audit process, including, but not limited to, not completing portions of an audit, late audit submittal without communication, extremely unprofessional quality, etc.:

- First offense – warning to the Auditor
- Second offense – Auditor on probation for between 6-24 months (probation time applied at the discretion of the Appointed Agent or the EICC, based on factors related to the offenses)
- Third offense – if the third offense occurs while on probation, Auditor is removed from approved Auditor list
  - ❖ Auditor is no longer approved to conduct EICC audits
  - ❖ Auditor may request re-approval as a new Auditor after 12 months

Continual errors, late reporting, unprofessionalism, or other issues that are not addressed or corrected

The Appointed Agent reserves the right to suspend Auditors who continually make similar mistakes or otherwise do not implement corrections to the process as suggested by the Appointed Agent or the EICC.

Detrimental Actions – The Appointed Agent and the EICC have the sole discretion to terminate any Auditor for any reason at any time for actions, comments, attitudes or any other actions or factors that may be detrimental to the EICC audit program. Protection of the EICC's reputation and confidence in the program by member companies, Auditors, auditees, external stakeholders and others is the top priority in determining termination of any Auditor's approval to work within the EICC system.

Expired CPD hours – If the 24 CPD hours have not been completed by an Auditor within 12 months, approval to participate in EICC audits ends. However, Auditors have a two-month window after their approval ends to collect the 24 CPD hours. Failure to satisfy the 24 CPD hours results in termination of approval for conducting EICC audits.

Auditors may become re-approved to conduct EICC audits, but must be approved through the same process as a new Auditor.

Audit Firm Approval Termination

The audit firm's ability and approval to conduct an EICC audit may be terminated for the following reasons:

Confirmed Ethical Breach(es) within the firm – acceptance of bribery, accepting gifts, unethical or dishonest audit scores, etc.:

- For each ethical breach, or suspected ethical breach, the Audit Firm must demonstrate to the Appointed Agent or the EICC the measures taken to prevent future breaches, which may include increased or additional training, monitoring, oversight, or other such activities. This should be included in a Corrective Action Plan sent to the Appointed Agent or the EICC for review.
- If the audit firm does not demonstrate appropriate actions, their approval will be terminated.
- During the investigation and demonstration phases, the audit firm may be suspended from conducting EICC audits.
- NOTES:
  - ❖ These decisions are at the sole discretion of the Appointed Agent or the EICC
  - ❖ These breaches are not only restricted to EICC audits, they include any ethical issues with any audit type, or within any auditing scheme

Egregious Errors – systemic issues within the audit firm with egregious errors in the audit reports or audit process, or if the audit firm uses non-approved Auditors (or has too many Provisional Auditors) to conduct an EICC audit:

- The Audit Firm must demonstrate to the Appointed Agent or the EICC the measures taken to prevent future egregious errors, which may include increased or additional training, monitoring, oversight, or other such activities
- If the Audit Firm does not demonstrate appropriate actions, their approval will be terminated
- During the demonstration phases, the Audit Firm may be suspended from conducting EICC audits
- NOTE: These decisions are at the sole discretion of the Appointed Agent or the EICC

Continual errors, late reporting, unprofessionalism, or other issues that are not addressed or corrected – systemic issues with continual errors in the audit report in process:

- The Audit Firm must demonstrate to the Appointed Agent or the EICC the measures taken to prevent future errors, which may include increased or additional training, monitoring, oversight, or other such activities
- If the Audit Firm does not demonstrate appropriate actions, their approval will be terminated
- During the demonstration phases, the audit firm may be suspended from conducting EICC audits
- NOTE: These decisions and actions are at the sole discretion of the Appointed Agent or the EICC

Detrimental Actions – The Appointed Agent or the EICC has the sole discretion to terminate any Audit Firm for any reason at any time for actions, comments, attitudes or any other factor that may be detrimental to the EICC audit program. Protection of the EICC's reputation and confidence in the program by member companies, Auditors, auditees, external stakeholders and others is the top priority in determining termination of an Audit Firm's approval to work within the EICC system.
